Hello Steve,

I have been down the coast at our beach house. It is very remote and doesn't have a phone or TV
- it is a great place to get away from it all. I have yet to see the show, since they wouldn't send me a copy of it until it aired in the States. I have heard that they did a good job with the time they had. I am glad they didn't villainize David or me - that was my worst fear about the airing.

I am also glad they didn't fixate on the money side of the story. There are some extended interview pieces on the 48 Hour web site. They have the lovely Christine reading a letter written by Scott. Poor misguided girl. Now I just feel sorry for her mother. I am secretly looking forward to seeing the footage of her collapsing on the courtroom floor. The Coffin family was not impressed with the amount of air time she got.

I saw that your re-ran the story on your blog and opened the comments section back up. I was tempted to leave a post, but then I thought the better of it!! After the hiding I got last time, I think my posting days are over!

I hope all is well with you. Are you working on any interesting projects at the moment? My only project is my family and my job. It is good to have a bit of normality back in my life.

All the best,

Megan
